Dear Mr. Matji:

I was very pleased to have had the opportunity of meeting you and your colleagues at the Medicinal Chemical Symposium in Uppsala recently. I appreciate the information that you gave me about your company and about your product Immunoferon. I am having the brochure translated from Spanish into English, following which I will circulate it among our scientific staff to determine their interest. I will then write you to let you know what our decision or interest is in this product.

Thank you again for your kindness in meeting with me.

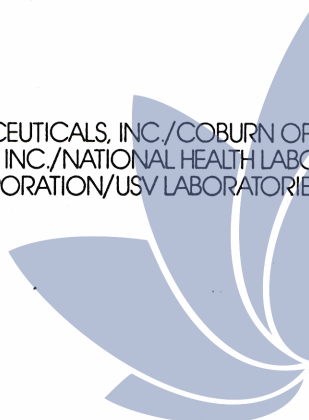

Sincerely,

Bernard Loev
