Thank you for your letter of August 24th.

First of all my deep sympathy for the passing-away of your step-father. It was a very bad luck that it happened at the moment you were ready to visit more greek islands.

Our cruize finished very well. We had an absolutely flat sea from Corfou to Messina what very seldom happens and we were very lucky because the journey lasted about 24 hours.

I am staying in Mongofre until the end of October and then I will fly to America to visit everybody.

If I have time to stop in New Smyrna, I hope you will take me fishing.

Happy to know that Catherine and X are all right.

Jacqueline joins me in the sorrow for your sadness.

Regards to Bill and love to you both.
